

A Guide for Cabinet Dealers on Differentiation: Gain More Business with Century Cabinets

Cabinet dealers today must offer more than just quality cabinets—they need reliable partners to help them stand out. At Century Cabinets, we understand the dealers' pressure to set customer expectations, manage logistics, and scale profitably. That's why we've built our business around making yours stronger. From advanced finishing technology to localized support, we deliver the capabilities, consistency, and care that empower dealers to win more business and build lasting client relationships.

A Smarter Dealer's Choice: The Century Cabinets Difference

Not all cabinet manufacturers are created equal. At Century Cabinets, we've designed our operations, teams, and product offerings specifically to support our cabinet dealer partners. We don't try to be everything to everyone. Instead, we focus on what matters most—dependable craftsmanship, consistent service, and reliable delivery—so our dealers can do what they do best: sell confidently.

- Strategic product line design
- Automated finishing operations
- Short lead times
- Dedicated service teams
- Flexible design options
- Local manufacturing

For dealers, this means fewer headaches, stronger brand awareness, and a competitive edge that's difficult to beat.

What We Offer Cabinet Dealers

Cabinet Focused Offering

At Century Cabinets, we don't believe in overwhelming our partners with endless SKUs or impractical options. Our offering is intentionally curated to ensure you can easily meet customer needs without complicating the sales process.

Local Manufacturing Centers and Service Departments

Unlike many large manufacturers that ship products across the country from a single warehouse, we operate local manufacturing centers and service hubs to ensure a faster, more responsive experience.

Local Cabinets: Your Cabinets Are Never Far Away

You're not waiting on distant supply chains or overseas shipments when you partner with Century Cabinets. Our local approach means your cabinets are always within reach.

Robust and Experienced Service Teams

It's not just about the product—it's the people behind it. At Century Cabinets, we believe that excellent service builds great partnerships.

Automated Finishing Line for Superior Consistency

The finishing process can make or break a cabinetry product. Our investment in an automated finishing line ensures quality, consistency, and efficiency that sets us apart.

Short Lead Times Keep You Competitive

Lead times can make or lose a sale. With Century Cabinets, you gain a supply partner who prioritizes speed without compromising quality.

Partnership Benefits of Our Cabinet Dealers

Our goal isn't just to sell cabinets—it's to build success for cabinet dealers. That's why we offer a range of partnership benefits that elevate your business and support long-term growth.

For today's cabinet dealers, differentiation isn't a luxury—it's a necessity. Partnering with Century Cabinets gives you more than access to beautifully crafted products. You gain a strategic partner aligned with your goals, equipped to support your growth, and ready to help you deliver an exceptional experience to every customer.

Whether you're a new dealer looking for a partner in a new market or an established firm seeking a more reliable supply chain, Century Cabinets offers the tools, service, and trust you need to succeed.

Expand Your Sales Strategy as a Cabinet Dealer with Century Cabinets

Century Cabinets isn't just a supplier—it's a growth engine. Dealers who align with us often find new avenues for market expansion through targeted product recommendations and co-branded marketing campaigns. We work with dealers to identify new sales opportunities, whether tapping into new construction markets or remodeling segments.

We offer a dealer portal, which gives our dealers access to marketing materials highlighting what makes our offerings unique, including product sheets, specification guides, and much more. We help you create demand for your services while amplifying Century Cabinets' strength.

How We Support Builder and Remodeler Relationships

Many of our dealers work directly with designers, remodelers, and contractors who demand reliability and speed. Century Cabinets is uniquely positioned to support those relationships thanks to our responsive service teams, consistent inventory, and dependable shipping schedules.

When you promise a builder a delivery date, you need a manufacturer who will meet it—no excuses. That's why we've invested in operations that prioritize predictability. Builders trust dealers who deliver on time, and dealers trust Century Cabinets to make that happen.

We also offer support when things don't go as planned. Our local teams can quickly resolve service requests or delivery hiccups so your professional relationships remain strong and intact.

Building a Brand Around Reliability

Century Cabinets helps dealers build a reputation for beautiful products, reliability, and trust. When your customers see that your cabinets arrive on time, match the showroom samples, and meet or exceed expectations, they return and refer others.

Trust is the most valuable currency in today's competitive landscape. Our support systems are built to enhance your brand's credibility through each transaction.

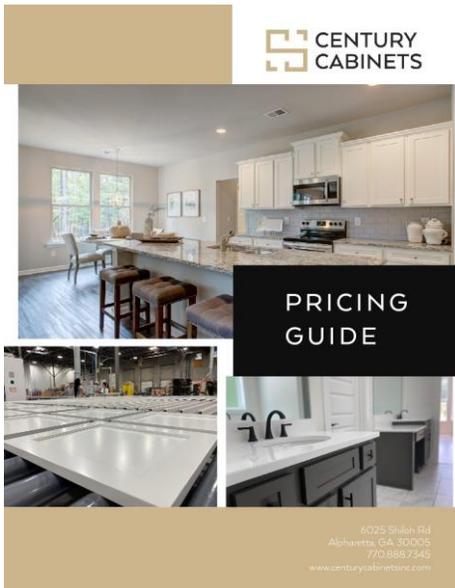

Whether through consistent communication, fast answers to questions, or a seamless return or replacement process, we help you earn and maintain customer loyalty.

Extending Support for Cabinet Dealers Beyond the Transaction

At Century Cabinets, we believe that our role doesn't end with the delivery of your order. We're committed to helping our dealers succeed long after the sale. This means offering continuing education, marketing support, real-time service response, and proactive planning to help you grow. When market trends shift or new customer demands arise, we're with you, offering tools, advice, and product enhancements to help you stay ahead of the curve.

For example, we frequently provide trend forecasting reports, which allow our dealers to anticipate customer preferences and update their displays accordingly. In addition, we host business development workshops tailored to dealer sales teams, providing insights into customer behavior, emerging design preferences, and how to position Century Cabinets as the go-to solution for remodelers and homeowners alike.

Why Cabinet Dealers Switch to Century Cabinets

Dealers who come to Century often share similar frustrations: missed deadlines, inconsistent product quality, poor communication, and lackluster support. They're looking for more than just a supplier—they're looking for a dependable partner to help them confidently run their business.

With Century Cabinets, they find:

- Short, reliable lead times that improve project scheduling
- Finishes and styles that resonate with today's market
- Responsive teams that pick up the phone
- A manufacturer who listens to feedback and adapts

These aren't just operational wins—they're strategic advantages. Dealers who switch to Century Cabinets often gain more than peace of mind; they gain a renewed sense of control, customer credibility, and sales cycle momentum.
